NUMBER 33

HON. J. A. SULLIVAN.

Brief Sketch of the Candidate From Madison for the Democratic Nomination for Congress. His Record is Worthy of Emulation.

Hon. Jere A. Sullivan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district, is a man of large business and political experience, and is thoroughly equipped to occupy the responsible position which he seeks.

He was born near Richmond, during the Civil War. While the subject of this sketch was very young his father died leaving a widow and seven children in poverty. The mother inspired the children early in life with a desire for a good education and all of them responded and used every honorable effort to secure the same. Judge Sullivan was educated in the common and private schools of Richmond until he entered the Freshman class of Central University, from which institution he graduated with the highest honors of his class. During vacation he usually worked as a hand on the adjoining farms in order to secure funds with which to purchase books and other necessities. Shortly after his graduation he served as deputy county clerk and deputy circuit clerk of Madison county and at the same time read law under the late T. J. Scott, who subsequently became circuit judge and was one of the ablest lawyers and judges in the State. Judge Sullivan completed his education in the University of Virginia, where he studied law. After being admitted to the bar, he formed a partnership with Hon. H. B. Herd, who shortly after located in Ft. Worth, Texas, where he has made a great success as a lawyer and business man.

In 1885 Judge Sullivan was nominated and elected county attorney of Madison county without opposition. Again in 1890 he was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term, he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term on account of the growth of his practice which required all his time. His record as county attorney was progressive in every particular. He helped in the movement to extend turnpikes, build bridges and improve the county along all lines. Although often requested to become a candidate, Judge Sullivan declined to make another race until 1907, when he became a candidate for representative of Madison county at the solicitation of hundreds of his fellow Democrats. He was again nominated and elected without opposition. He went to the legislature not to play politics but to frame, introduce and have enacted measures that would improve and advance the State. He introduced a bill requiring the inspection of State banks on a similar basis with national banks, but the measure failed to pass until taken up by the last legislature. Although not a member of the 1912 legislature, he drew the bill which was adopted. Under this law, a depositor feels that the State bank is as secure as a national bank. Judge Sullivan after examining the school census of 1900, which showed a remarkable degree of illiteracy in Kentucky, set to work to improve the educational system of the State, or rather re-adjust matters so that the people would get advantage of the immense volume of money that is being expended annually for the cause of public education. With others, he helped establish two normal schools, and by his efforts the high schools were founded, and even Judge Sullivan's strongest opponents, who have seen the results, must admit that his ideas were correct and that his work will eventually take Kentucky out of the illiterate column. Kentucky was almost the last State in the United States to establish a normal school. Practically from the time he was admitted to the bar Judge Sullivan has been recognized as one of the ablest and most successful lawyers, and has been counsel on either one side or the other of every important suit at the Madison bar. His practice has extended to many other counties and into the Federal Court. He has at all times been recognized as a progressive citizen, possessing sound, conservative judgment, and is one of the most successful business men in Kentucky. By his own industry, starting in poverty, he has amassed a splendid estate, and upon the removal of J. Stone Walker from Richmond, Mr. Sullivan was chosen President of the State Bank and Trust Company, the largest financial institution in Madison county. Shortly after his admission to the bar, Judge Sullivan became secretary to Gov. McCreary during his race for Congress. Later upon the election of Grover Cleveland he was tendered the position of first deputy under Collector Bronston, but declined as he preferred to continue his law work. He has been elected Chairman of the Democratic county committee of Madison county repeatedly without opposition and likewise a member of the Democratic State Executive Committee. He has also served as a member of various State campaign committees. He drafted the Democratic platform which was adopted at the convention in Louisville and upon which Governor James B. McCreary and his splendid ticket won such a crowning victory last November. Then, after Gov. McCreary had changed an 18,000 majority to a 31,000 majority, Mr. Sullivan was asked by the new Governor to prepare measures which were to carry out the platform pledges. This he did, spending several months in the patriotic work. Practically all of the pledges were enacted into law by one of the best legislatures Kentucky has ever had. His great service to the party actuated hundreds of his admirers in the eighth Congressional district to call upon him to enter the race for Congress, realizing that he would be a great force at the national capital and would in the language of Jack Johnson, "bring home the bacon."

Death of an Excellent Citizen.

Mr. W. B. Sublett, who was a most excellent citizen, a retired farmer, died at Cane Valley last Friday morning. He was 80 years of age, and had been very successful in life. He was the father of Messrs. J. W. and R. A. Sublett, who are prominent merchants of Cane Valley. The deceased was a man of honor and had the respect of everybody in the neighborhood. He lived a religious life from boyhood and was ready to meet his God. The News extends its sympathy to the surviving sons and all other relatives.

The P. H. Bridgewater farm, near Cane Valley, Adair county, will be sold by the heirs, at public sale, on a credit of six and twelve months, at the courthouse door in Columbia, at the August county court.

About 100 acres in cultivation and about 90 fine timber. Good residence and other buildings. til Aug 1st.

Mr. G. R. Reed has purchased of Judge T. A. Murrell the latter's fire insurance business and the former is now in full charge. Mr. Reed is a good business man and is perfectly reliable, and we feel sure that he will do a good business for the companies he represents.

The railroad from all points in the State to the Educational meeting to be held in Louisville June 25th to 27th inclusive, will be one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip. This is the lowest rate that can be given, and many educators should take advantage of it.

June Crop Report.

Reports coming to this Department as to the condition of crops on the first day of June show the condition of wheat to be 75.4 per cent. This is a decrease of nearly 4 per cent from 79 per cent since the first of May.

The wheat crop has not come out as it has sometimes after a severe freezing during the winter. With an acreage of 83.8 per cent, and a condition of 75.4 per cent, there is not a great prospect for a wheat crop in the State this year. Condition of rye is given as 72.2 per cent; the corn acreage as indicated is 92.6 per cent, or an average crop condition of corn 81.8 per cent. The great amount of rainfall and the flood conditions prevented the sowing of a large crop of oats, 79.7 per cent being reported, the condition of which is 90.3 per cent. Potatoes is one of the most promising crops Kentucky has this year. The acreage being 95.3 per cent and the condition 95.3 per cent. The per cent of dark tobacco transplanted June the first is 91.4 per cent, indicating rapid progress is being made in the planting of this crop. The Burley section has transplanted only 51.1 per cent of its crop. The recent dry weather has prevented the rapid transplanting of tobacco, and the use of "setters" has been resorted to in order to get the crop out.

Both the pig and lamb crops are short ones, indicating a crop of 88.6 per cent of pigs, and 88.7 per cent of lambs. The shortage of pigs and lambs in a great measure is due to severe winter and unfavorable spring conditions. Poultry has also suffered in this respect. The fruit crop is not a good one. Condition of apples, 70.4 per cent; peaches, 61.8 per cent; pears 72.9 per cent; plums 81.8 per cent; grapes 82.7 per cent is reported. Blackberries are said not to be so plentiful this year. Only 70.2 per cent average crop reported, with raspberries but little better, 77.1 per cent.

Blue grass is reported as showing a condition of 103.5 per cent, alfalfa 91 per cent, and clover 88.4 percent. Some places report an entire failure of clover, and others an unusually good crop. The same is true of the fruit and berry crops. Failure is reported from some points in the State, and an unusually good condition in others. The southern section of the State, as a rule reports wheat in fairly good condition, while the central and northern section of the State report an unusually poor condition exists.

Taken as a whole, the report for June indicates that it will be impossible for Kentucky to produce an unusually large grain crop even with the most favorable weather conditions prevailing the remainder of the season.

Bad Accident.

A frightful accident which proved very serious to Paul Akin, son of Zed Akin, Sparksville, occurred a few days ago. Paul and Clifford, a younger brother, had accompanied their father to the woods for a wagon load of beansticks. Returning, a cow scared the team, the wagon upset, the whole load falling upon Clifford, but he was not seriously hurt, but Paul was not so fortunate. His left arm was broken and he will probably be deprived of the proper use of it for life. Mr. Akin, in trying to hold the team, also got considerably hurt.

A gentleman, who resides in Taylor county, was in Columbia last week. In speaking of the decision of the United States Circuit Court concerning the railroad tax of Taylor county, said: "The last step has been taken by the county and our citizens now realize that the bonds will have to be paid." "A short time ago," said he, "the county could have compromised the debt for fifty or sixty thousand, and as it now stands we will have something like $180,000 to pay. Under the decision we can not collect for county purposes without collecting for the bonds."

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sutton and children, wish to thank their many friends for their kindness and sympathy shown to them in the loss of their son.

Repair Shop.

I am prepared to do all kinds of buggy work, painting, etc., a specialty. Horse shoeing 60 cents. Spring and road wagons also put in condition. Work first-class.

HELM DAY IN DANVILLE

The Present Congressman Sweeps the Crowd with him in the Joint Debate in Boyle County.

(Danville Messenger)

Before a large and intelligent audience, Messrs. Harvey Helm, Jere Sullivan and Jack Chinn presented their claims for the Democratic nomination for Congress, at the Danville courthouse Saturday afternoon. Much interest has been awakened in the fight by reason of the prominence of the candidates and the fact that both Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Chinn have been making all their fight on the record of Mr. Helm. The Boyle county people, while they were aware of the good work Mr. Helm has done in Congress, were anxious to hear what his opponents could say against him. After Saturday afternoon's oratorical battle, our people were only all the more convinced that the attack on Mr. Helm is wholly unwarranted, and the speeches only made them the more enthusiastic for him. The Messenger does not desire to belittle the claims of either Mr. Sullivan or Mr. Chinn, in fact we would not do so under any circumstances, as their long and faithful work in the party entitle them to the highest consideration, but The Messenger is for Mr. Helm because he has been weighed in the balance and cannot be found wanting. We believe in rewarding a good and faithful servant, and can not see the wisdom of giving up a certainty for an uncertainty.

Mr. Sullivan spoke first. He made a good speech, sketching his career from birth, when he came into the world penniless and, when a mere boy, was thrown upon his own resources. By hard work, he managed to assist relatives and secure for himself a good education. Mr. Sullivan certainly is entitled to great commendation for his manly struggle in the world, and the surmounting, unaided, of many great obstacles. His speech was devoted principally to thrusts at Mr. Helm, declaring that Helm's record was a blank.

Mr. Helm was the next speaker, and when he arose it was shown by the ovation that ten to one in the audience were for him. He told of his record in Congress, and referred to the fact that the work of the present Democratic house had made the election of a Republican President an impossibility. He told of his personal work in unearthing frauds in the war department whereby $11,000,000 of the people's money was being wasted every year. "Isn't that in itself enough to show I earned my salary?" He thundered at his opponents. He explained that the work of his committee in checking this $11,000,000 steal had been acted on by the House, and checked by a Republican Senate, but they would be compelled to act favorably if a War Appropriation bill is passed. Mr. Helm called attention to his work for the good roads bill, whereby the Government will pay $25. per mile annually for roads used by rural and star route carriers. He also told of his fight for the farmers free list bill, making a saving of $390,000,000 to the farmers; the tobacco bill and many other measures, in fact so many accomplishments that the accusations by his opponents became absolutely ridiculous. It is well known here that Mr. Helm has done more to further payment of old war claims than has any representative the district has ever had. He referred to his work on the Government buildings, and the fact that he quickly secured an additional allowance for the handsome structure now standing in Danville. Mr. Helm was cheered to the echo, and at conclusion of the speaking was surrounded by citizens and warmly congratulated.

Col. Jack Chinn closed the debate in one of his characteristic speeches. He has a keen sense of humor and can tell a joke in a winning way. He had the audience laughing most of the time. His remarks pertaining to the present fight were in attempted ridicule of Mr. Helm, and he closed by appealing to the farmers to send a farmer to Congress. While the candidates threw the hot shot into one another, the debate was gentlemanly throughout. Mr. Helm's friends are in high feather over the outcome of the debate and are all the more sanguine of his success.

For Sale

I have some household and other goods which I will sell privately. Call and see them.

Russell Circuit Court.

The June term of the Russell circuit court opened at Jamestown last Monday. The docket for the term is about as usual, and it is believed that the Commonwealth cases, before the court, will be disposed of by the middle of the week.

Judge Carter arrived about 10 o'clock Monday morning and by the dinner hour the grand jury had been instructed and was at work.

There was a very good crowd of people in town when court convened, and during the day the merchants, dry-goods, and grocery men did a paying business.

The business of the court will probably go into the second week.

Committed Suicide.

Mr. J. C. Muncie, a prominent lawyer of Edmonton, and at one time Commonwealth's Attorney in this the 29th judicial district, committed suicide by shooting in his home town last Saturday morning. The particulars have not reached this office. Mr. Muncie was about 60 years old, and in very good circumstances. He has been in wretched health for several years, and it is thought here that brooding over his physical condition caused him to take his own life. The news of his untimely death and the manner of the ending, was a shock to Metcalfe county. He leaves a wife and perhaps several children.

Eld. Tobias Huffaker will preach at Smith's Chapel school house on the 4th Sunday in June, at 10:30 a. m. and at 3 o'clock p. m. will preach at the Hutchinson school house on same day. On the 5th Sunday he will preach at Hebron church at 11 o'clock a. m. and at 3 p. m. will preach for the colored folks at the Flat Woods Christian church.

Messrs. John and Frank Sandusky have purchased a nice automobile and it arrived a few days ago. Other persons in Columbia are thinking of purchasing cars, and it may be that in less than a year the town will be full of them.

The fine rains, last Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, revived vegetation in Adair county. In the next few days there will be beans and potatoes in abundance. In the White Oak country there was more rainfall than here.

Durham Bros., Campbellsville, received at Milltown, last Thursday, a fine bunch of hogs, the best sold in that locality this year. Price, 6¢ cents.

WANTED.—50 boys to sell novelties in, Fairs, shows, and ball games. Be first, write to-day. Send 10 cents for terms, postage ect.

GREWSOME FIND

IN WAYNE COUNTY.

Two Women Discovered Dead by Preacher in Country Home.

ADDICTED TO MORPHINE.

Somerset, Ky., June.—A gruesome find was made by the Rev. J. L. Murrell, of Monticello, who had been called to the home of "Sis" Hicks, in Wayne county, to conduct funeral services of Uncle Marion Denton. When the Rev. Mr. Murrell arrived at the home he found Mrs. Hicks and her daughter, Florence Hicks, both lying dead on the floor of the sitting room. He called in some of the neighbors and an examination showed that both parties had been dead for several hours.

Strychnine and laudanum were found in the room and suicide was the theory. However, it was thought by some that Florence, who was about thirty years of age, had killed the elder woman, who was about fifty-five, and then committed suicide. A number of cuts and bruises were found on the face and head of the elder woman, and this actuated the idea of both murder and suicide.

It is said that both women had been addicted to the morphine habit for some time, and that one of them had been in feeble health. Whether it was an agreed double suicide, or whether suicide and murder, will never be known, as there were no other members of the family present, the two residing alone. —Louisville Times.

The Danville Advocate in retracting some of its "sensational charges" concerning Congressman Helm says it does not want to state anything untrue or unfair, which of course means that it has stated what is not true and what is unfair, nevertheless Mr. Sullivan is having these untrue and unfair statements printed in the papers of the district at his expense. The Advocate has thrown a fit or two concerning some alleged agreement on the part of Mr. Helm not to enter the present race for Congress, stating that it would produce such a pledge signed by Mr. Helm, in the presence of witnesses, which we said was not true and called on the Advocate to produce, which it could not do.

In a nut shell Mr. Sullivan's efforts to remove Mr. Helm from the race is convincing evidence that he cannot win with the Congressman in it. The gentleman from Madison wanted to make the race two years ago, but after going over the district found that the Tall Sycamore loomed up in every precinct so strong and so formidable that the barrier could not be broken down. Did he then cry out that Helm had promised not to run again? Verily he did not, but if Mr. Helm made such a promise then was the time to have enforced it. And the same is true of the present race, as well as all other races which Mr. Helm has made. It seems that the opposition to Lincoln county's son will have to trump up another or at any rate a more reasonable charge, for this is puerile. —Interior Journal

The rain Friday night and Saturday prevented the Baptist Sunday School from holding their picnic Saturday. It has been arranged to hold it next Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Fair grounds. Be on hand at the church at 2 o'clock with your basket filled for the occasion, and conveyance will be provided to take you out. Every member of the Sunday School and church together with any other members of your families have a cordial invitation to be present. In connection with the supper hour the prayer-meeting service will be held, and there will be no service at the church that night. Let all come prepared to make it both a pleasant and profitable occasion.

Mr. J. B. Coffey, assistant fire marshal, after having made a thorough investigation reported the recent fire in this place as accidental. It is his belief that the fire originated either in the bed room or the loft just over it and must have resulted from a match dropped or from a cigarette. There was no one in the barn at the time the fire was discovered.

Last Saturday morning a well-known traveling man, Mr. T. B. Pemberton, representing a Louisville firm, died at Bowling Green from complication of a troubles. Mr. Pemberton was well and favorably known here and a son of Mr. S. C. Pemberton, who visits here every year. The News extends its sympathy in this bereavement.

Twins Joined at Hips Get Along Nicely.

Holyoke, Mass., June 7.—Apparently gaining strength each day, the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Griggs, whose bodies are joined together, are being closely watched in the city hospital.

If the Griggs twins live to grow up—and the attending physicians say there is no reason why they should not—the case will be the second authenticated instance of the kind in history.

The Siamese twins, who died in 1874, at the age of sixty-three, were joined by a fleshy ligament at the chest. The Griggs twins are joined at the hips by a ligament which physicians believe may ossify. The union of the Griggs twins is more pronounced than was that of the Siamese twins.

For a few days after the birth of the twins their separation by an operation was considered. The practical certainty that the operation proposed would result in the death of one of the twins and might prove fatal to both, led to the abandonment of the idea.

Aside from the fact that they are joined at the hips, the twins have no more in common than any other twins and lead practically independent lives. Thus, one smiles while the other cries or sleeps. One twin is a little larger than the other and eats more than her sister.

Murder Mystery.

Adairville, Ky., June 10.—The body of Houston Burchett, a simple-minded laborer, living two miles from this place, was found in an advanced stage of decomposition near the store of G. F. Dorris, six miles west of this place.

A preliminary investigation by the coroner developed that his throat had been cut; that he had left the home of his employer on Sunday morning with about $60 and was seen in company with several persons near Dott, Ky. His pockets were cut out, evidencing that he was murdered for his money. The coroner will continue his investigation to-day and the murderer will likely be apprehended.

Plethoria.

There were Gargantuan feasts in those days, we are told; barons of beef and monstrous pasties and sheep roasted whole and side dishes, washed down with mead, a cask full, and flagons of claret, and finished off with jorums of rum; thereafter repletion and regurgitation and, sometimes, nausea.

Something of the same kind, if we do not mistake the symptoms, medically speaking, is indicated throughout the nation. It has fed beyond its capacity on highly spiced food à la Roosevelt; it has tickled its palate with delicacies provided by an ex-President; it has overloaded its stomach with the vilest of abuse the most clamorous of claims and the most barefaced of brag. You cannot everlastingly feed a man on condimentary sensations and expect the last one to the same effect as the first; you may not with impunity hit below the belt and appeal to the gods for fair play; and it is the common trick of the welsher, trying to get away with the goods, to shout "stop thief" and turn the pack on some inoffending bystander.

So many things happen overnight and so much is variable that is certain that we will not tie ourselves down to a definite expression. We will only register an impression and that is, that Mr. Taft's star shines a little brighter, that Mr. Taft's speed is getting a little speedier, and that there is an unmistakable, but not very noisy, revolution of feeling in his favor.

Isn't it just a bit bold and brassy, for example, for our friend from Nebraska, whose name with wonderful propriety, is Howell, to tell the National Republican Committee that he must take his seat and pass on the contests because he has a mandate from the people? His colleagues to be of course, being merely man-made. Is it not a singular misconception that for his and his employer's particular benefit all the established rules and customs and precedents shall be disregarded and it shall not be necessary for the committee to pass upon his credentials? For more years past than we care to remember, and through more conventions, it has been regular practice for a convention to organize the National Committee after, and not before; equally, newly designated members—they are no more—were never admitted until the activities of the convention had reached that point. The new men will take care of the future, their day is not today but tomorrow. We believe we may say with safety that there is no exception to this practice, which is, besides, common-sense and alike of Democratic and Republican usage. But Mr. Howell, who, of course, is no boss, proposes, nevertheless, to boss the committee. The distinction is Rooseveltian.

But to return. These and similar exhibitions are not having the effect that Oyster Bay would hope. It may be that the Ohio delegates-at-large were chosen by an act of brigandage—we don't know; but we would ask by what kind of an act of transfer, purchase or force or pretty promise, instructed Taft delegates, in Alabama, for instance, are to neglect their instructions and plump for the Colonel? Are they heroes. Williams Tells and the like? Or are they merely the accidental beneficiaries of the fact that Alabama is first on the roll-call and conveniently located to lead the advertised stampede?

We repeat that to our unaccustomed and uncritical eye diagnosing the case pathologically, not politically, we see symptoms of plethoria. Hopeful symptoms.—Louisville Times.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Lots of people stir up strife by preaching harmony.

A Modern King.

"Frederick, the late King of Denmark, says one of his biographers, 'had a fixed place in the affections of his people before he came to the throne. He was a fine specimen of manhood, mentally, morally and physically, universally popular.'"

Such modern kings are not so rare as some persons believe. It is the custom of sensational writers to picture all royal families as being of defective stock and all male members of royalty as being dissolute. But nowadays princes are trained with a good deal of care and princesses often live simpler lives than American heiresses. There is not much work or room in the world for crowned heads nowadays, and the royal families are canny enough to know that a little "cutting up" goes a long way toward public dissatisfaction. They are anxious to hold on and they make a greater effort than ever before in history to make a good impression. The result is that not a few princes are fine, manly and clean men.—Frankfort News.

Cuba.

For the third time in its very short and checkered history the Republic of Cuba confesses its inability to deal with a domestic crisis, to protect the lives and the property of the alien—one of the first duties of a Government, to secure respect for the law. And for the third time its godfather, under whose tutelage it chafed and fretted, is compelled to assume a responsibility the limitations to and duration of which no man may forecast.

Always on such occasion the same old arguments are heard; always we are told that this country could administer Cuba with little difficulty; that the proximity of the island renders it all but an integral part of this country; that the problems there to be encountered are, whether financial, or ethnological, or administrative, by no means of the same character and magnitude as, for example, are presented by the Philippines. And, finally—and this is the clincher—we are invited to consider the practical viewpoint; to consult our own interests; to allow something on the score of expediency after so generously and unselfishly living up to a Quixotic undertaking. Our motives have been high and praiseworthy—well and good! Now let us get down to business.

We have no fear that Mr. Taft will be tempted to improve his opportunity; we are very certain that Secretary Knox, so lately a guest of the Gomez administration, will support it loyally; and we rejoice that the juncture will be handled by men with a high sense of honor and of judicial temperament.

Gift for Business.

Willie's father conducts a boat renting business on the Jersey side of the Hudson.

"I'll give you a dollar if you'll bail out the boats, Willie," said the father one morning after a rain.

There were 25 boats and Willie wasn't keen. So he was non-committal. A little later his friend Albert came over.

"I'll give you a quarter if you'll bail out the boats," said Willie to Albert.

"Gee! What d'ye take me for? required Albert as he surveyed the fleet of rowboats. 'It's worth 35 cents, anyway.'"

"Well, all right, 35 then," said Willie.

Albert got busy and did the bailing, while Willie looked on and, Tom Sawyer-like, bossed the job.

The work done, Willie collected, paid Albert and pocketed 65 cents.

"That boy'll be a business man," remarked the father to Willie's mother later, but not in the boy's hearing.—New York Herald.

A Surprise.

Sunday morning June, the 9th, being my 61st birthday, as I was feeling a little under the weather from a fine fox chase Saturday night, a few of my friends began to drop in and then they came from Adair, Taylor and Green counties, until yard and lot were filled and then came one of the best dinners I ever enjoyed.

I appreciated it more than words can tell and feel this morning that my life has not been in vain for these surely were my friends and many thanks to the ladies for the part they took.

This day will ever be a bright spot in my memory. I also want to thank my Taylor county friends for they certainly know what a man needs as he goes over the hill of time.

Best wishes to all.

Society, Its Evils.

BY MISS FLOYD WYATT.

Woe unto you society people that are church members for you run with Satan all the week and on Sunday stand in the congregations and sing "Am I a Soldier of the Cross?" and on Monday begin to work with Satan again!

Woe unto you society people that are church members for you heed not the commandment of the Lord saying, "If any man defile the temple of God him shall God destroy for the temple of God is holy which temple ye are!"

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye heed not the exhortation that ye "Present your bodies a living sacrifice holy and acceptable unto the Lord which is your reasonable service!"

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye heed not the exhortation which is "Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good!" Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye heed not the commandment saying, "Let every soul be subject to the higher powers; for there is no power but of God!"

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye heed not the saying, "God's hand is upon them that do good; But the wrath of God is against them that do evil!"

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye enter not into the true worship of God and shut up the doors to those that are entering in! I say woe unto you, how can you displease God so?

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye enter not into the true service of God but enter into the society hall instead! Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye continue in sin and idleness while the world is perishing because of thy neglect!

Woe unto you society people that are church members for you neglect the worship of God and continue in sin and set a bad example for the younger generation to follow!

Woe unto you society people that are church members and also mothers having daughters! You are not only breaking God's law but also setting a bad example before them.

Woe unto you society people that are church members for you heed not the yawning pit of Satan yourselves but drag others after you!

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye heed not our Father's pleading voice: "My son give me thine heart!"

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye heed not the Savior's command: "Enter ye in at the strait gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction."

Woe unto you society people that are church members for ye continue to attend the theaters and moving picture shows and heed not the Savior's words: "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord!" Elkton, Ky.

Northern Inconsistency.

The Courier-Journal calls upon the shades of the abolitionists to witness the attitude of the North as to the negro who wants his rights in Cuba, and to compare it with their attitude during the troublesome days of Reconstruction.

The North has never known much about the problems of the South, and has never shown the jewel of consistency. When Northerners are at home and see little of the negro race they regard Southerners as very bad people, who habitually walk about on the necks of their brown brothers. But let a Northern housekeeper or employer try it a while in the South and see what she, or he, has to say about the easy-going Southerners who "take entirely too much" off of the colored domestics and farm factory hands. Of course the inconsistency of an unsentimental attitude toward the Cuban negroes who say they are not getting their civil rights is even a little more inconsistent. As Cuba is even further away from New York and New England than Georgia, they might be expected to show some sympathy for the "down-trodden."

CAUSE AND REMEDY.

Uncertainty of the immediate future is looked upon by many men of affairs, as a blockade to enterprise and business prosperity, and this blockade is now quite apparent throughout the channels of trade.

The Presidential Election; the sorts of Congress with no fixed purpose; Organized Labor as a new factor in politics; together with other matters of greater or less import, represent at this time a chaotic conflict of separate interests, to harmonize which is now the problem before the country.

All want Prosperity, Peace and Unity. Read with care the Cincinnati Enquirer, a journal that prints all the news each day from every commercial center throughout the world. A barometer of causes and effects that points out, as a Beacon Light, the danger and the safeguard therefrom.

As well known, the Daily Enquirer is the largest in size and highest priced paper in the United States, yet cheapest, measured by quality and quantity.

The Weekly Enquirer, with the cream and digest of all the news, able and conservative editorials, market reports, methods and results from Government and State Experiment Stations, veterinary matters, People's Forum, choice literature, short and continued stories, non-sectarian sermons, general information, etc., with the exclusion of all matters of scandal and immorality, is today the Cleanest Weekly Family Journal obtainable. Each issue is alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

Solicitors for subscriptions make a handsome profit and increase the good influence of The Enquirer in the uplift of morality and industry, and for the betterment and welfare of the community. For terms write to The Enquirer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Union is Strength.

More even than Italy Belgium might have been called until recent times a geographical expression in spite of the fact that just as there were Italians in Caesar's day, so likewise there was a Gallia Belgica.

As a dynasty apart, however, there has been a King of the Belgians little more than eighty years, a King moreover, always of exceptional ability, acumen and industry although, in one notable instance, something of an international scapegrace.

Before that Belgium had been at various times an appanage of Spain, an adjunct to the Netherlands, a land divided and a bone of contention generally. Overwhelmingly Catholic, more so, probably, than any country in Europe, it has, like its northern neighbors, the national sense in a dominating degree, while its thrift, enterprise and artistry are approached only by the French, when again it resembles in an all but complete abstention from emigration.

Geographically considered Belgium, except in its eastern forest section, is practically a continuation of the Low Countries, traversed by canals as they are, supporting a dense population, half again as large as that of Canada within an area not greatly in excess of that of Massachusetts, and supporting it well. With France it has something more than a sympathetic affinity; in France are domiciled near half a million Belgians, the rest of the outside world holding probably less than a tenth as many. From France, too, it draws most of its political ideals, as the present unrest implies, and it was to the son of Louis Philippe that the throne was first offered when, in 1831, Belgium and Holland became sovereign independent States. French, moreover, is to a preponderating extent the language of the people, Flemish coming next, and German hardly counting at all.

And since in France the questions of secular and clerical education, far too tangled for mere casual observers to elucidate, have been wrecking ministries for a decade and more precipitating conflict, embittering the national life, and tainting the army, it was wholly natural that a like condition should spread to Belgium. There at the elections recently held, a so-called clerical majority has been returned to power very considerably strengthened, and one might reasonably have inferred that in a land where universal manhood suffrage obtains, this might have been accepted as the people. But universal manhood suffrage in Belgium is something of a freak. Every male Belgium gets a vote on attaining the age of twenty-one; at thirty-five, if married and with a family, he receives another; university diplomas, official rank and certain property qualifications bring him two more, and thus it will be seen that what really exists is a highly specialized electorate. Not one man one vote, as the Socialists demand, but, roughly speaking 1,500,000 voters with 2,500,000 votes. In other words the minority rules.

The anti-clerical combination was badly beaten at the polls, and refuses to accept the verdict. With a grim and ominous persistence it voices its protest in acts of angry violence; it refuses to go back to work until its rights are granted, and, by its actions, it adds to the ferment that is kissing and seething through all sections of the industrial world. And the Government, at its wits' ends, meeting violence with violence, discovers when too late that its troops are wavering and that employers openly encourage employees.

If the critical condition were purely local Belgium might be left to worry through, the rest of the world looking on. But, unfortunately, Holland and Belgium possesses more elements of potential danger to European peace than even the Balkans. The King a new and untried man, may abdicate; a republic may be proclaimed; remembering the national motto: Union is strength," singularly like Kentucky's, it may reach out a hand to Holland; and then Germany hungers for Luxemburg and the Dutch colonies and coast, and France would like to round out her frontiers as in the past.

What is immediately likely, however, is a compromise, the abolition of plural voting for example or the placing of all schools on an equal footing. King Albert's English and French friends will not willingly see him provoke an international crisis.

A Dog Dinner.

While the starving poor were suffering within easy reach, if not at their doors, the fashionable members of New York's famous "400," who would probably scorn to dine with so ordinary a person as a Congressman, took luncheon at the Hotel Vanderbilt the other day with nine cultured and highly intelligent Pekinese pups. The table as "resplendent with burnished silver and polished crystal and a flame with jonnivuls." One of the dogs daintily lapped up nourishment from a silver platter held by his escort, Mrs. Carl E. Ackley." How many sick children in hospitals and elsewhere in the city would have enjoyed the flowers and been aided to health by the nourishment.

Announcements

For Congress

We are authorized to announce Jack Chinn a candidate for Congress in the eighth district, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held August 3, 1912.

Sullivan.

We are authorized to announce J. A. Sullivan, of Madison county, a candidate for Congress in this the Eighth District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held August 3, 1912.

Harvey Helm.

We are authorized to announce that Hon. Harvey Helm, of Lincoln county is a candidate for Congress, in the Eighth district, subject to the Democratic primary to be held August 3, 1912.

Our candid opinion is that Mr. Roosevelt did not strengthen his cause by abusing the National Committee.

The Kentucky Press Association enjoyed a delightful outing at Olympia Springs, Bath county, last week.

Judge Robert J. Winn, of the Court of Appeals, has announced his retirement from the race for the Republican nomination to succeed himself.

The new Prison Commission, as announced by Gov. McCreary, is Henry R. Lawrence, M. F. Conley and Dan E. O. Sullivan, all news-paper men. Quite a number of other appointments were given out.

The Republican National Convention is now in session at Chicago. The supporters of Mr. Taft seemingly have everything to their liking, but there is no certainty as to what will happen.

The two delegates from the Eleventh district were given to Mr. Roosevelt in the Republican State convention, but the National Committee did not think he was entitled to but one, and it acted accordingly.

Robert C. Wickliffe, Congressman from Louisiana, a native of Kentucky, was struck by a train in Washington, D. C., last week and killed. At the time the fatal accident occurred Mrs. Wickliffe was in the gallery of the National House, who was conducted to a private apartment where she received the sad news. The remains of the late Congressman were brought to Louisville, the native home of the widow, and interred.

It begins to look like the fight in the National Democratic Convention will come between speaker Clark and Gov. Woodrow Wilson. While Mr. Bryan is in no sense a candidate, there are a number of metropolitan papers who believe that there will be a deadlock and that the Nebraskan will receive the honor. To-day, notwithstanding he has been three times defeated for the Presidency, he is recognized by all parties as one of American's greatest men—honest in public and private life, a man who walks in the fear and admonition of his Maker.

There is no disguising the fact that good roads is the one thing most needed in this part of the State to bring prosperity and contentment, on the farms. For years the drift of young men has been from the country to the cities and as a result agricultural pursuits have suffered and opportunities for profitable employment in the center of population have become less numerous. To rebuild the farms, to establish thrift and pride in agriculture, to make the land "blossom as the rose," to prevent our hardy intelligent young men from leaving the old country home for the uncertainties of city life, a change in condition must take place in the country. To our mind good roads are most important. But few men are inspired to improve and beautify their farms when public roads leading to their homes are uninviting. Transportation facilities are indispensable and it stands to reason that the better they are made the more lasting improvements will be made. This is as true of the country as it has proven to be in the building of cities and if this section ever comes up to its great possibilities it must build good roads. Other parts of the country are awake and alive to road building and in every section where this work is in progress farm improvements and prosperity are in evidence. For years this serious condition has confronted the people and still we move in the same old way. We favor good roads and know of no better way to build them than by securing money through county bonds. To undertake by the slow process of paying as we go with a small tax levy will never accomplish much. Whether the people of this county would vote bonds is unknown but if we ever get ideal roads they must come through the bond route. We favor bonding and building.

Russell Spring.

Clean up, clean up is the cry of every business person in Russell Springs, at present. On the east side Mrs. Ermine Wilson and Mr. J. W. Kimble began the move by putting down side walks and tearing up old planks formally used for sidewalks. On the west side, The Supply Co., has made great improvement in the way of painting and other decorations.

Judge T. A. Murrell of Columbia, was transacting business in our town Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Tuller, the new Hotel man certainly is making an effort to entertain Summer boarders. He is a hustler and we feel confident that he will do his part in keeping up the reputation of the famous Mineral Water, never was the picturesque old oaks more inviting or the spring in a more sanitary condition.

Mrs. Mollie Smith, of Fonhill was visiting Mrs. Ella Stephens one day last week.

Misses Maggie Ruberts and Hattie Workman, of Dunville, were shopping in Russell Springs Thursday.

Mr. Irvin Isbell, Bowling Greens Star Senter Fielder has returned to Russell Springs his old home to rest up for a position awaiting him in Oklahoma City. Irvin isn't one of the boys.

Mr. Lenoard Wilson has been on the sick list for a few days, and we are glad to note that he is very much improved at present.

Mrs. Ermine Wilson Miss Myrtle Phelps spent last week in Burkesville, attending the M. E. Conference. They report a splendid time and are loud in their praise of the Burkesville people.

Mr. Lee A. Lawless and wife of Denmark were shopping in Russell Springs Monday.

Mr. Sylvanus Wilson the proprietor of the Supply Co., has been farming some this week, says, "I am in the store after Tuesday."

Dr. Elam Harris has completed his course in dentistry and returned to Russell Springs where he is permanently located. We were all glad to know that Dr. Harris was among the first in his class.

Mrs. Ara Wilson and Mrs. May Bottom visited Mrs. Walker Bryant of Columbia last Wednesday.

Mr. L. C. Winfrey the stave man is now at Greasy Creek attending to hauling staves to the river. He reports a good lot of staves on hand.

Dr. A. A. Hatfield is doing some dental work at Jabez this week.

The two Sunday Schools at this place will unite in giving an entertainment on the 4th, of July. Every body invited, we are expecting a good time.

Mrs. Mollie Humble, who has been visiting her father, Wm. Vaughn at this place returned to her home at Somerset last Sunday. Her niece Miss Margie Graham accompanied her to spend a few days.

Mrs. Ida Payne who has been in poor health for some time, will start in a few days to Louisville to be placed in an infirmary for treatment. We are all anxious for Miss Ida, and hope she can find relief and come home well.

Mrs. Tina Wells accompanied Mr. James Montgomery on a trip to Jamestown one day last week.

Dr. Combest was called to Dunnville last week on the account of the serious illness of his brother.

Prof. U. G. Hatfield is home for a short stay from Scottsville, where he was the Principal of the school at that place.

Miss Myrtle Phelps was in town shopping Tuesday.

Knifley.

Dry weather prevails in this section at this time and the farmers are taking advantage of same. No tobacco set to amount to anything but most people have their hills ready.

Meadows will be short here again this year owing to the cold wet spring.

The health of this section is very good at this time.

Young corn has a bad color on account of the cold wet spring.

J. V. Dunbar has a cow that has twin male calves.

Mr. John L. Hovious and daughter Flora, of Eubank, Ky., are here on a visit to friends and relatives. Mr. Hovious is a father of our merchant A. Hovious.

Born, to the wife of G. O. Hancock a daughter, also to the wife of J. W. Parnell a daughter.

Messrs. Bun Rice and R. O. Dillingham, of Egypt spent last Saturday night in our town.

Mr. H. S. Robinson of Campbellsville, was in our town one day last week on legal business.

Mr. Wyatt Feece passed through our town one day last week on his motor cycle.

Mrs. Louisa Beard who has been afflicted with a cancer for a long time is quite feeble at this writing.

Mr. Bur Gilpin a commercial man was to see our merchants last Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. Gose and daughter Nellie, and Mrs. C. G. Jeffries, spent a day or two last week with their parents in Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ingram.

Dr. Z. T. Gabbert of Casey Creek, passed through here last Tuesday en route for Cane Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Coles and two children, Murrell and Jesse, of Grayville, Ill., visited relatives in Columbia from Thursday until Monday. Mrs. Coles, before her marriage, was Miss Hattie Murrell, a daughter of Joseph B. Murrell, who died many years ago, and was born and reared in Columbia. She is also a niece of J. E. Murrell, of this office.

Dr. and Mrs. Woodruff Flowers arrived from Cincinnati last Wednesday afternoon and are now at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Nannie Flowers, on Greensburg street. The couple were met at Campbellsville by Mr. Fred Hill and Miss Pearl Hindman and the party came over in a hurry. Relatives and friends met and welcomed them at the residence.

W. R. Myers, wife and daughter leaves Wednesday for a trip South in their Ford Automobile. They expect to go by the way of New Haven and then over the Lincoln way to Glasgow, then to Bowling Green, Ky., Nashville and Dicken, Tenn., where they will visit the family of W. L. Rogers and attend the wedding of Mr. Rogers' oldest son, Phimon, on the 24th. Mr. Myers and family expect to be away for at least two weeks.

What'll We Do to Them Next Year?

I feel a deep sympathy for some of the men who I have heard are going to be candidates for county offices next year on the republican ticket. If I am informed correctly the line will be strictly and distinctly drawn between the Taft and Roosevelt forces in Adair county, when the time comes for nominating a republican county ticket next year, and the first question that will be asked a republican candidate for county office, will be "How did you stand in the Presidential race last year?" and upon his answer will determine whether or not he has any earthly showing to win. Under the direct primary law, the republicans of Adair county, will every one have a voice as to who our next county ticket will be, the matter of nominations will not be left a packed convention or to the county committee, but to the will of the majority. Woe be unto the candidate who was not on the right side. Roosevelt men will number 3 to Tafts 2 in Adair county.

Mr. J. C. Strange had fine luck spooning forked tailed catfish last week. He was at the creek only a few hours, killing three. One weighed eight pounds the other two 5½ pounds each. It is only in the last season or two, that the blue forked tail cat has been caught above Milltown. It is believed that they are now plentiful between Smith & Stevenson mill, on Russell's creek and Wilson's old mill, near Columbia.

A visit to the old home land, the meeting of kindred and friends and noting the many changes made within a few fleeting years yields bountifully in renewed vigor for ones accustomed avocation on return to duty. It was the pleasure of the writer to spend a few days in the Old Dominion, his native state, returning last week, and while there to meet Father, brothers and many friends. It was also a pleasure to find Virginians from Cumberland Gap to Richmond not only preaching the doctrine of good roads but actually building them. There is not a state in the South, possibly, so active in road building and we feel safe in saying none surpass in the class of roads being constructed. In the mountain section of that State the grading is very expensive but regardless of expense the work is being pushed and within a few more months hundreds of miles of fine roads will be completed. In the Central, Eastern and Southern sections as well as in the South-west part of the State similar efforts are being made to build desirable roads and unless the work soon halts the Old Dominion will be in the fore front in public roads. Correspondingly land values are rapidly advancing, business in all lines active, the farmers happy and hopeful. It looks like the Old State is to reclaim her prestige for homes and happiness which was lost in the sixties.

Want Homes,

The Kentucky Children's Home Society has a great many little people needing homes. They have quite a number of attractive babies, as well as older children of both sexes up to 13 and 14 years of age.

The children are expected to be treated as members of the family, sent to school, Sunday-school, etc. We only place our children with christian families.

If any of the readers of this paper can give a child such a home and would like to take a child to raise, if they will write to the Kentucky Children's Home Society, 1086 Baxter Ave., Louisville, Ky., they will take the matter up with them.

Killed at Lebanon.

Mrs. Charles Sandusky, of this place, received a message from Lebanon early Friday morning stating that her brother, Mr. Ras Sutton, had just been killed at that place by a fast train. It is our understanding that the deceased was standing on a railroad bridge when the train struck him. The deceased was a native of Camp Knox, Green county, but at this time his parents live at Vester, Adair county. Mr. Sutton was about twenty-three years old. His remains were brought to Columbia for interment.

Social Gathering.

On the evening of June 15th, from two until ten o'clock one of the most enjoyable social event of the season, was held at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Butler, by their two pretty daughters, Misses Jennie and Nellie.

The afternoon was spent in playing croquet, there were many interesting and exciting games.

As the shades of night came on, they entered the reception hall and parlor and indulged in social conversation and parlor games, until the hour of nine, when they were invited into the dining room, where they were served with many kinds of salads, ices, cakes and fruits.

The young ladies and their parents certainly know how to entertain their many friends.

Those invited and present were Misses Mary Cundiff, Katie Murrell, Ann Liz-zie Hood, Cora Smith, Rena Cundiff and Bettie Lee Butler. Messrs. Lambert Sanders, James Hood, Wilber Smith, Claud Cundiff, Daniel Murrell and John W. Butler

The Peevish Child Needs a Laxative

It is natural for a child to laugh and play and when it sulk drowsily or cries you may depend on it something physical is the matter. If you see no evidences of a serious ailment you will not be wrong if you quietly give it a dose of mild laxative that evening on putting it to bed.

The remedy most generally recommended for this purpose is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which mothers throughout the country have been giving their children for a quarter of a century. Today thousands of families are using it where hundreds used it then, and there must be good reason for this word of mouth recommendation.

It is admittedly the perfect laxative for children, women, old people and all others who need a gentle bowel stimulant and not a violent salt, cathartic pill or doctored water. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will act gently, and when taken before retiring will bring complete satisfaction in the morning. After a short use of this remedy all forms of outside aid can be dispensed with and nature will again act alone.

All classes of good American people keep it in the home for ills of the stomach, liver and bowels, and among the thousands who have written the doctor that they will never be without it are Mrs. J. W. Haynes, Brady, Ky., and Mrs. E. L. Weeks, 1744 W. 2nd St., Owensboro, Ky. A dose of it has saved many a person from a serious illness.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Ends Hunt For Rich Girl.

Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her strong nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Her peach-bloom complexion and ruddy lips result from restful sleeps; her elastic steps from firm, free muscles, all telling of the health and strength Electric Bitters give a woman, and the freedom from indigestion, backache, headache, fainting and dizzy spells they promote. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing try them. 50c at Paul Drug Co.

Some People Are Superstitious.

It's queer how superstitious some people are. There are those who are so superstitious that they almost go crazy worrying about things that their good sense ought to teach them that there is nothing in. Uncle Sam knows something about the superstition of people and the troubles they have, and that is why it is unlawful to send an anonymous letter like the following, which we, have just received through the postoffice:

"Lord Jesus, I implore Thee to bless all mankind and keep us from all evil and take us with Thee eternally.

This prayer was sent to me and is sent all over the world. Copy it and send it to ten of your friends. Sign no name and see what it will bring you. It was said in the time of Jesus that all who wrote this prayer would be delivered from all calamity, but those who would not write and pass it along would suffer some misfortune. Commence the day you get this copy and send one each day and on the tenth day you will receive some great joy. Do not break the chain."

Each age of our lives has its joys. Old people should be happy, and they will be if Chamberlain's Tablets are taken to strengthen the digestion and keep the bowels regular. These tablets are mild and gentle in their action and are especially suitable for people of middle age and older. For sale by Paul Drug Co.

"Life" 34 Days After Death.

Some years ago Dr. Alexis Carrel, an English scientist, showed that the various organs and tissues taken from a living organism can be maintained in a live state for a more or less prolonged time by placing them in a suitable medium at the right temperature, and that such tissues may even grow for several days. His results have been contradicted by other authors, but more recently Dr. Carrel has achieved even more striking results. By taking the preparations out of their nutritive medium at the right time and transferring them to another medium consisting of three parts of the normal plasma of the animal in question and two parts of water, and repeating the operation at proper intervals up to as many as nine times, he finds that the connective tissue shows great activity even as long as thirty-four days after its removal from the body.

Will Second Clark's Nomination.

Washington, June 9—Senator elect Ollie James may deliver one of the speeches in the Democratic National Convention seconding the nomination of Speaker Clark for president. The Clark managers are desirous of having Mr. James for the role, partly because Kentucky is the speaker's birthplace and partly because the senator-elect from that state is recognized as the finest convention orator in captivity. Mr. James has been frequently mentioned among Democrats as Washington as a likely man for permanent chairman of the national convention. Speaker Clark will probably be placed in nomination by either Senator Stone or Senator Reid, of Missouri.

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. We had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

Thirteen in Death House.

Thirteen men now occupy the death house at the Eddyville penitentiary, awaiting death in the electric chair. This is said to be the largest number of men ever under sentence of death at one time in Kentucky. Those who make a study of such things say that the reason the death penalty has been imposed so often by juries of this State, during the last few months is because the execution of the death sentence takes place at Eddyville and not in the county seat of the county where the crime occurred. Many sheriff's objected to presiding at an execution and used their influence either to prevent the return of a death penalty, or, if it was returned, were active in efforts to secure a commutation of the death sentence. Since the electric chair has been installed the applications for commutation of death sentences have not ceased, but the applications are not backed by so large a number of citizens as formerly.

Bryan, the Forerunner.

No American, in or out of public office in the last ten years, can challenge the proud, station of William Jennings Bryan in private life glorified more and more with every surge of the public mind towards the democratic standard he set up so boldly and has upheld so steadfastly.

The figure Bryan history will celebrate clears its true. proposition slowly with oblivion of his own error and the perception of his countrymen of the deeper truth he proclaimed through it as much as through his later and wiser policies. Intellectual limitations that have expanded since bound him up with a fatal error of fundamental finance all of the more insidious for its false and moral appeal.

The same intellectual limitations have clouded the moral brightness of his teachings by denying his power to put them in practical or popular form. It was not till pinchbeck imitators in both parties adopted for gain of fame or power the principles he proclaimed for their intrinsic value in the government of the republic that his prophetic inspiration was recognized.

Bryan was the First Progressive. He began as a voice crying in the wilderness of indifference and contempt the gospel of return to the untrammelled rule of the people with all its chances of blind impulse and generous error. He ends as the neglected leader of a chorus that has swelled with the cry of office hungry bounds as well as the higher note of awakened civilization.

When Bryan said twelve years ago the higher citizenship of the country is saying now with the volume of irresistible numbers and the compulsive force of the united will and purpose of the whole nation. Some follow one of his copyists and imitators and some another, but all, conscious or not, draw inspiration from the same unending source.

The nation that denied him the presidency three times is building the principles he stood for more than any personal ambition into its laws and constitution. The states that threw electoral votes against him have been reshaping their own governments in accordance with his ideals. He has been the most potent influence in late America's public.

What political success in the same period is comparable to this? What successful politician is not his debtor? Contemplate the career of glutton but unsatisfied ambition built out of the fragments of his philosophy of political morals like modern shops and stables out of an ancient temple!

Reflect on the extinction of those who resisted his teaching, and the swift exhilaration of those who were keen enough to see in it a ladder for climbing to power and manifold joys power can give to them who seek it for their own sake.

Senator Crane is the last to fall before the weapon of his spirit, as the Aldriches, Hales and the like went before and the Lodges and Penrose are to come after. They who have risen to the degree of his political philosophy increase in number with every new illumination of the road to popularity and success.

He is a moral Warwick, who has made presidents and governors, senators and judges, legislators in states and nation as a great inventor makes masters of finance and industry by supplying the spiritual basis of success often without ability to reap personal profit from it.—Minneapolis Tribune.

A Beautiful Tribute.

Editor Mike Hetherington, in his paper, the Lakeland (Fla.) Telegram, on "Mother's Day" paid the following beautiful tribute to his mother whom he never knew save in infancy: "He never knew her. His coming into the world was the signal of her going forth. A few brief days she clasped him to her heart—the heart whose last beats were most for him; then ere the baby eyes had learned to look with recognition upon her, she kissed them closed—and closed her own forever. Vaguely through life he missed her. Times, as a boy, when the night wind moaned outside, and within fantastic figures and shapes of fear formed in the darkness, he cowered beneath the covers of his cot and wept passionately for something that he wanted but could not name—though afterward he knew that the thing he craved was sheltering mother love. His playmates had ever a source of unfailing love and sympathy, from which he saw them copiously and continually draw; and he felt that the Fates had left something out of the scheme of his life, and in the midst of the buoyancy of youth, his eyes would grow wistful and his heart be sad. Then a man—and sometimes, after the struggle of the day, when came the quiet hour—musing o'er flood and fell, or gazing far out into the sad and solemn sea—he would dream of the land beyond the setting sun—of the mystic glories which eye hath not seen—and of her who loved him first. Aye, others came and crept into his heart and filled it with love that was almost pain; but in its innermost holy of holies kept ever a chamber inviolate for the mother he never knew. And it pleased him to believe that, though he saw her not, she walked through life beside him, and many times made her presence felt in sweet suggestion of kindly deed, in silent stirrings of the heart that turned him from temptation's way. And whatever of good or gentleness, or generous impulse ever blossoms in his life, to her he gave the credit. Therefore, on "Mother's Day," when thousands have the blessed privilege of laying the votive offering of their love at living mother's feet, and other thousands live over tender memories of days when mothers walked by their side—he wears the white flower for her—for her to whom he believes his nature owes its best. So, in the dusk of this dear day, while the flower is fading, though its fragrance lingers still, he writes these lines for the sake of those who, like to him, knew mother only in the land of dreams."

Banking Reform.

The eight plank of the Democratic platform lately adopted in this State runs as follows:

"In the interest of the farmer, the wage-earner and business man, we favor an honest revision of our national banking and currency laws, which will create a safe and elastic system, preserve the independent banks, prevent any dominant political or financial control and render recurring panics, with their attendant loss and suffering, impossible."

Strangely enough so pious and incontestable a proposition has excited the mildest of comment. It has been accepted as among the things that are needed, but not immediately obtainable, for the welfare of the Commonwealth, when, as a matter of fact, such reform is of vital concern, not only to the "farmer, the wage-earner and the business man," but to all the citizens of all the State everywhere, at home and abroad.

Banking reform is an economic, not a party, question; labels have nothing to do with it; it should be aloof and apart from the contentious clamor of the candidates. In a sense the tariff was not inaptly described as local; but our banking conditions, chaotic and haphazard, "the worst in the world," are of necessity universal, and, in a pinch, universally oppressive.

America, peculiarly favored in many ways, enjoys a monopoly of panics, currency panics that is; England knows them not, they excite to merriment in Paris and are foreign to Berlin; they belong to the Orient where the hoarding of precious metals is as an article of faith, or to the Dark Ages when Kings exorted "contributions" by the pulling of teeth, the wrenching of anatomy, and such other pleasant practices as might raise the wind.

But, proud of this distinction or not America holds tenaciously to a banking system defensible only on the theory that we are accustomed to it. It ought to be improved over the face of the land. Some day it will be and we note with pleasure that Kentucky is in line.—Louisville Times

Never Kill a Bird.

The destruction done by insects is beyond computation. The loss to the farmers through the destruction of the insectivorous birds is beyond calculation. And yet we in Kentucky are doing nothing to save the birds. Men who have not yet reached their majority can recall when every year there were thousands and thousands of doves. Now there are scarcely any and unless there is a closed season in Kentucky, in a few years the dove will be as extinct as the carrier pigeon. The call of the "Bob White" is unknown to children whose heard it from every hillside. The woodpecker, who lives off insects that destroy trees is becoming a rare sight. Birds of every sort and kind, from the little "Jennie Wren" to the crow, the friend of the farmer, are ruthlessly killed by boys and men. The Kentucky Legislature should pass a law forbidding the killing of birds of any kind in Kentucky for at least five years.—Shelby Record.

The man who predicted a hard winter is mighty chesty, but there is consolation in the knowledge that he has to pay his coal bill like the rest of us.

Gradyville.

C. B. Diddle was in Metcalfe county a day or so of last week looking after sheep.

Dr. J. H. Grady, of Columbia, was by the bedside of Mrs. Thos. Grady one day last week.

Dock Walker was on the sick list a few days of last week.

Austin Wilmore spent a day or so at Glasgow last week.

Mrs. Lizzie Grissom, of Columbia, spent one day last week visiting Mrs. Wm. Wilmore of our city.

Miss Alene Montgomery, of Columbia spent a few days of last week visiting Miss Mildred Walker.

J. D. Walker was in Columbia a day or so of last week.

Judge N. H. Moss and wife, of Columbia, spent last Saturday night visiting the family of Mr. Squire Kemp.

J. A. Wilmore returned from Lexington last Wednesday.

Guy Nell spent last Sunday in Edmonton.

Mr. Robert O. Keltner was on the sick list a day or so of last week.

Dr. L. C. Nell had a fine lot of clover hay saved last week.

W. L. Fletcher has a fine crop of one sucker dark tobacco growing.

Rev. W. B. Cave, of Cane Valley, spent a few days here last week.

Strong Hill, one of our mill men, is putting down a mill in the community of Weed this week.

Mr. Curt Yarberry and family, of Cane Valley, spent last Saturday night and Sunday with the family of Mr. Silas Cain.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCannless, who have been visiting relatives here for the past few days returned to their home the first of the week.

Mr. John H. Holliday spent a day or so in Frankfort last week.

Our town was well represented last week by commercial men with all the department of goods.

Mr. D. C. Wheeler will begin work on his new residence in a few days.

Mr. B. B. Janes bought a nice bunch of cattle from Strong Hill for $95.

Rev. Dudgeon, of Cane Valley, will fill his appointment here on the fourth Saturday and Sunday in this month. Everybody invited to attend.

Misses Bell and Hughes, two popular young ladies, of Edmonton, spent a few days of last week visiting relatives and friends in our town.

Our farmers are all about up with their work so far as plowing their corn and preparing their tobacco ground. If we only could have a good rain they would all get through transplanting tobacco and be ready for harvesting their wheat that is about ready to be cut. The wheat crop in this immediate community is not much, if any over one half crop.

Mr. Geo. H. Nell, wife and daughter accompanied by Mr. W. L. Winters, wife and daughter spent a few days of last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Yates, at Portland. They put in a day or so fishing with good results.

Mr. Henry Keltner, one of our good farmers, who lives on Gov. Hindman's farm, just below this place, on the creek, was in our midst one day last week and informed us that his growing crop was looking fine and bids fair to make a bountiful yield. Mr. Keltner informed us that he had noticed a few wharf rats about his premises. On investigation he found that they were making headquarters under his corn crib and he at once secured help and went after them, killing one hundred and fifty full-grown rats. He said from the appearance of them they were all in a healthy condition and fat and were raised on bottom land corn. If any one can beat Mr. Keltner at one time on the rat subject let us hear from them.

Cane Valley.

Misses Pinkie Callison and Julia Penick, were visiting the family of Mr. W. S. Griffin at Hatcher last week.

Mr. Chapman Dohoney of Campbellsville, was here on business several days of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parson of Gradyville, were visiting relatives at this place last week.

Urban Keltner one of our best farmers is confined to his bed with inflammatory rheumatism.

Mr. Powell, wife and daughter, of Nebraska, are visiting the family of E. J. Page.

Mr. Carl Bradshaw of Mt Erie Ill., who visited the family of W. E. Hancock, fourteen years ago, is here on a visit. Mr. Bradshaw has many dear friends here and we are glad to see him again.

J. E. Rice of Romine bought a fine bunch of hogs of Jim Harmon last Monday.

Mr. Tom B. Lyon who has been in Arizona, for the past three years, returned home for a few weeks visit last Tuesday.

Capt. E. C. Page returned to his post of duty in Frankfort last Monday.

Glensfork.

Elders Z. T. Williams and Luther Young are conducting a protracted meeting at this place. Some fine preaching is being done. There has been five conversions up to present.

John Jones, who has been teaching in Georgia since Christmas, has returned home. Mr. Jones is an excellent teacher, and met with splendid success in the sunny south.

Miss Eliza Vaughan, who has been teaching in Georgia, returned home a few days ago. We have it that Miss Vaughan taught a splendid school and that her work met with the highest approval of both school officers and patrons.

Mrs. John Helm and son, Willie, of Campbellsville, are visiting at this place.

The schoolhouse that our district has been in need of for the last fifty years, is being built at last. The contractors, Messrs. Henry Well and J. E. Bennett, are doing a good job and the building bids fair, when completed, to be the best schoolhouse in this section.

Mr. Charles Jones, of Cumberland county, is visiting his son, Mr. James Jones, of this place.

Russell Springs.

A good rain would certainly be appreciated just now.

Wheat harvesting is in progress, and the yield is expected to be 20 bushels to the acre or more.

Mr. Ed Bradshaw, the genial traveling salesman for Louisville Grocery Company, was here a few days ago. He goes after business and gets it.

Messrs. Leonard Jones, veterinary surgeon, and Jeff Bradshaw, from Columbia, spent a day or two here last week and then went over to Jamestown.

Mr. Claud Hatter from Casey county, representing a Lexington house, was here last Thursday interviewing our merchants.

Mr. M. L. Grissom from your city, spent a day or two of last week here on business.

Mr. E. Harris, our popular dentist, is home again from Louisville, where he has been for several weeks.

Croquet is a very popular pastime here now. Boys, it would be much better if you would drop this sport on Sundays, go to Sunday School and devote the day to storing your mind with useful knowledge, and thereby honor your God. Sabbath observance is rapidly becoming a thing of the past all over our land and country, and will surely tend to destroy us as a nation. Divine laws must be respected or punishment is bound to come.

Mr. Rexroat has been engaged in getting up a subscription for painting the Baptist church. He secured a nice sum, and the work will likely be given to the lowest bidder.

Mr. G. A. Kimble is preparing to lay a good concrete sidewalk all along the front of his hotel. If others would follow his example it would be a great convenience for all, and enhance the value of real estate.

One of the best attended union prayer meetings was held here last Wednesday night. From 50 to 60 attend, and meet one night at the Baptist and the next at the Methodist. This shows a Christian spirit, and is very commendable.

Mr. Ingram, our banker, informs us that full $25,000 in deposits have been made at the bank here in the last three months from the poultry business alone, and that annually the receipts will amount to full $60,000. Now, our farmers should put out more tame grass, have from ten to twelve good cows on each farm, erect a modern creamery for about $3,000 and clear from $30 to $40 on each cow, and at the same time to rebuilding up their farm lands. Creamery butter is worth 27 cents per pound in Louisville now, and country butter here 15 cents. Quite a difference in the profits, as well as the work.

We need a "Booster's club" to advertise our great resources, secure a branch railroad and build up other enterprises. Progress is the watchword now on all lines.

Cole Camp.

Dr. Oscar Keen of Burkesville, spent last Sunday night with his uncle, Mr. C. T. Keen.

Mrs. James Cole visited Mrs. Bettie Cole Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thomas spent Sunday with her father Dr. T. T. Baker.

Miss Ella Baker is visiting her aunt Mrs. E. A. Morgan at this writing.

Rev. Marrs filled his appointment at Providence Sunday.

Misses Lizzie Cheek and Ida Baker are spending a few days with Mrs. J. E. Cole.

Several of the people of this neighborhood attended county court at Burkesville Monday.

Mr. D. R. Wood and daughter, Willia, were called to the bedside of his mother in Clinton last week.

Bob Fletcher sold a mule to Charles Holland for $125, and bought a three year old mare from Robert Baker of Amantaville for $117.

Pickett.

Owing to the dry weather the crops have not grown very fast.

Wheat harvest is about here, and it is not very good.

Lots of people would be glad to see a good rain, as a great many haven't got through setting tobacco yet.

Fry and Pickett Chapel baseball teams have played several games, but it seems that the Chapel boys get the best of them. The game last Saturday was 15 to 4 in favor of our boys.

There was a large crowd at a birthday dinner at Mrs. Whitlock's a few days ago, it being her youngest son's twenty-first birthday.

W. G. Pickett left for Bowling Green one day this week, to accompany his daughter home, school being out last week.

Mr. John Durham, of Greensburg, passed through here one day this week with a nice bunch of cattle.

George, John and Wyley Rodgers sold a lot of timber for railroad ties in the last few days.

"The Flour with the Nutty Flavor"

It is made on a "Midget" Marvel Self-Contained Flour Mill—the last word in milling machines. All of the milling operations take place in this one machine. It is a sanitary mill, none of the product is touched by hand or comes in contact with the outside air. In this mill the wheat and flour travel less than twenty feet—instead of the hundreds of feet in the ordinary modern mill—with the result that this unusually short and quick system keeps the flour clear and free from impurities, preserving its natural creamy bloom and the volatile oils which contain the flavor and aroma of the crushed wheat are not evaporated. This flour has that sweet, rich, nutty flavor of the "Old Fashioned" stone ground flour. You will also notice this flour has more strength than other patent flour, it will rise quicker in the dough.

We most cordially invite you down to our plant to see this wonderful mill make "The Flour with the Nutty Flavor."
